A FRENCH GIRL BASELY DE-CEIVED BY HER LOVER.

She Makes the Trip Across the Atlantic to Kansas City to Marry the Man Who Promised to Become Her Husband, but on Her Arrival Finds Herself Deserted In a Strange Land.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 28.-Broken promises, a fruitless correspondence to make up the story of Reine Duhaute's trip across the ocean in search of a faithless lover in Kansas City. She found him not and this morning is a French girl, highly educated and accomplished and while acting as governess to an English family she struck up a correspondence with a

Au Mans, whom she had never seen. In 1800 Dumas arrived in this country and settled in Florence, Kan. When Oklahoma was Edward McCoy, a sewing machine thrown open to settlement he joined the "sooners" and pre-empted a claim near Edmonds, Ok., where he now lives. In his letters to Mile. Duhaute he pictured his life and possessions in glowing colors. Late in November she took first-class passage for this country. He had arranged a meeting place at the office of S. Lang, French consul in this city, where they were to be married when she arrived. Near the last of Novem-ber the French consul found in his office awaiting him a handsome young woman of about 22 years, who plainly showed upon her face the marks of deep distress. It was Mile. Duhaute, She had arrived the day before and had during that time been waiting for her betrothed to come and marry her. She remained in the consul's office all day and seemed paralyzed in her utter helplessness. She told the consul the circumstances and was so deeply impressed with home at the corner of Forty-second street and Tracy avenue. Here she remained until this morning. Mr. Lang James Murphy, proprietor of the at once telegraphed Dumas of his in-Kaw Valley hotel at 316 South Fifth tended's arrival but no response was received. A letter was then sent. Dunas this time answered, claring that he had changed his mind. No excuse for his conduct was offered, She received money by cable last week from her mistress in London and today she left for London. Dunas is said now to be advertising

STATE DOCUMENTS.

Charges of a Washington Paper Against State Department Officials.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.-The Post charges that there is a literary ring in the state department which controls all the valuable historical documents purchased by the United States at public expense and refuses access to them except to a small coterie of New England historical writers. It mentions specific instances where a prominent Western writer has made numerous efforts to obtain copies of some of these documents, but has always been repulsed, though armed with orders from the leading state department officials.

The Post names a prominent Massachusetts congressman in connection with this alleged Boston ring and calls for an investigation by congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.-Chairman Berrel of the inauguration committee has completed his selection of the secutive committees of twenty-one as follows: James Norris, James L. Barbour, Henry L. Bris-coe, General H. V. Boynton, Alexander T. Britton, John Joy, Edson, Rear Admiral S. B. Franklin, Lawrence Gardner, Curtis J. Hill-yer, Robert O. Holtzman, J. Harrison Johnson, J. Walter and Beriah Wilkins. The National Treasury Recovering Gold. Washington, Dec. 28.—The treasury department is gradually recovering the gold it lost by shipments abroad. It has received $15,000,000 from New Orleans and $1,000,000 from Philadelphia. The heavy disbursements, however, reduced the net cash to 826,300,000. Pension payments con-tinue to be the chief source of drain, 813,656,000 having been paid out on this account this month. Pension payments will reach $14,000,000 before the month is out. This rate, if continued, will make the pension payments $168,000,000 per annum.

HUTCHINSON SALT. Decison of the Kansas Board of Railroad Commissioners. TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 28. - The state board of railroad commissioners this morning announced its decision that it was powerless to protect the salt companies against the competition of Michigan salt. In its petition, the salt company alleged that the railroads charged lower rates on Michigan salt to Kansas points than they charge on Kansassalt to the same points. The board says this is true, but as the most of the roads which are complained of in this petition do not touch Hutchinson they can't be compelled to make a joint tariff on Kansas salt with the two or three roads that do. are not to blame because it costs more to produce salt in Kansas than in Michigan. Further, the board says it does want to be a party to running out Michigan salt, which would be done if it should reduce the rate on Hutchinson salt below out-ide competition.

The Panania Investigation.

Paris, Dec. 28 .- At yesterday's session of the Panama investigating committee a dispatch was read from the editor of the Moscow Gazette demanding the fullest inquiry into the report that the paper's Paris correspondent has been paid $100,000 to boom the President Brison reported that an examination of the first portion of the Panama company's papers showed nothing implicating members of parliament. OUR ST. LOUIS LETTER

Office Building Improvements-A Hundred Miles of Electric Road to Be Built-Selling Franchises. Sr. Louis, Mo., Dec. 24.-Every new office building that rises with its ten and twelve stories in St. Louis has an improvement on the one built the month before, that shows what invention is doing for the convenience of the business man. Rapid and intelligent elevator service is the one thing needed in these big edifices. At present, in most of them, this is very irregular. You may ring the bell, wanting to go down, and along comes an elevator going up. You have to wait till it comes back. The newest idea is a double beil on each floor, one of them marked, "up" and the other "down." You ring the bell that shows what you The Inauguration Committee Samed. want, and the elevator going your way comes to your floor and stops. The elevators that run continuously up and down without bells are being abandoned, as there is too much waste of power with them.

If the Assembly passes the street railway bills now before it, over a hundred miles of electric roads will be added before next fall to those now running in the city. There are men in the city who, taking advantage of this intention of the railway builders to extend their lines into every nook and corner of the city, are making fortunes by keeping their eyes open and investing small sums of money judiciously. There are some of these men at every meeting of the Assembly. When an application for a new franchise is made, they take a note of the route. The next day they drive along the projected line looking for vacant lots. Then they see the owner and offer to pay his taxes in exchange for a year's option. In most cases he is glad to get the offer and closes with it at once. The other man pays the taxes and watches the railroad bill. Ten to one he closes the option before the year is out, and makes a thousand per cent on the investment, as the property jumps up at the approach of the new road. A business of this kind could not be carried on at all in a city growing less rapidly than St. Louis is.

There are thousands of people all over the United States who have pleasant memories of visits to the great woodland resoft of St. Louis, Forest Park. They have walked through it by the footpaths, or driven along its beautiful drives, and have marveled at in the Hutchinson salt case, holding its scenery, its zoological collection and its botanical garden. All these tourists will doubtless be interested in knowing that in a year or less there will be a belt line of electric railway running around the park and connecting with the city lines so that visitors may see the park from every side and return to their hotels without leaving their seats. At certain points on the line it will be possible to leave the cars and, by a walk of a few hundred yards, reach the lakes with their boats The boards find that the railroads and music, the tennis courts and the have voluntarily made reduced rates on slack coal for the Hutchinson salt of a lung-testing hill. The franchise companies in order to help them to for this road is to be sold at auction, compete with Michigan salt, and they and as it is certain to be largely pat-

Some practical joker has been harrowing the feelings of the superstitious citizens of Stockton, Cal, by prowling around town after dark in the habiliments of an orthodox ghost. The other night, however, the uncanny visitor appeared once too often, and while practicing some of its most shostly antics a strong right-hander planted squarely in the face by a young passer-by named Southerland caused it to turn a back summersault and swear in a manner extremely unspiritualistic.

An Enemy Baffled,

There is an enemy with whom thousands are familiar all their lives, because they are born with a tendency to bilousness. With this enemy they are constantly hattling with ineffectual weapons.
